FOOD BANK UPDATE

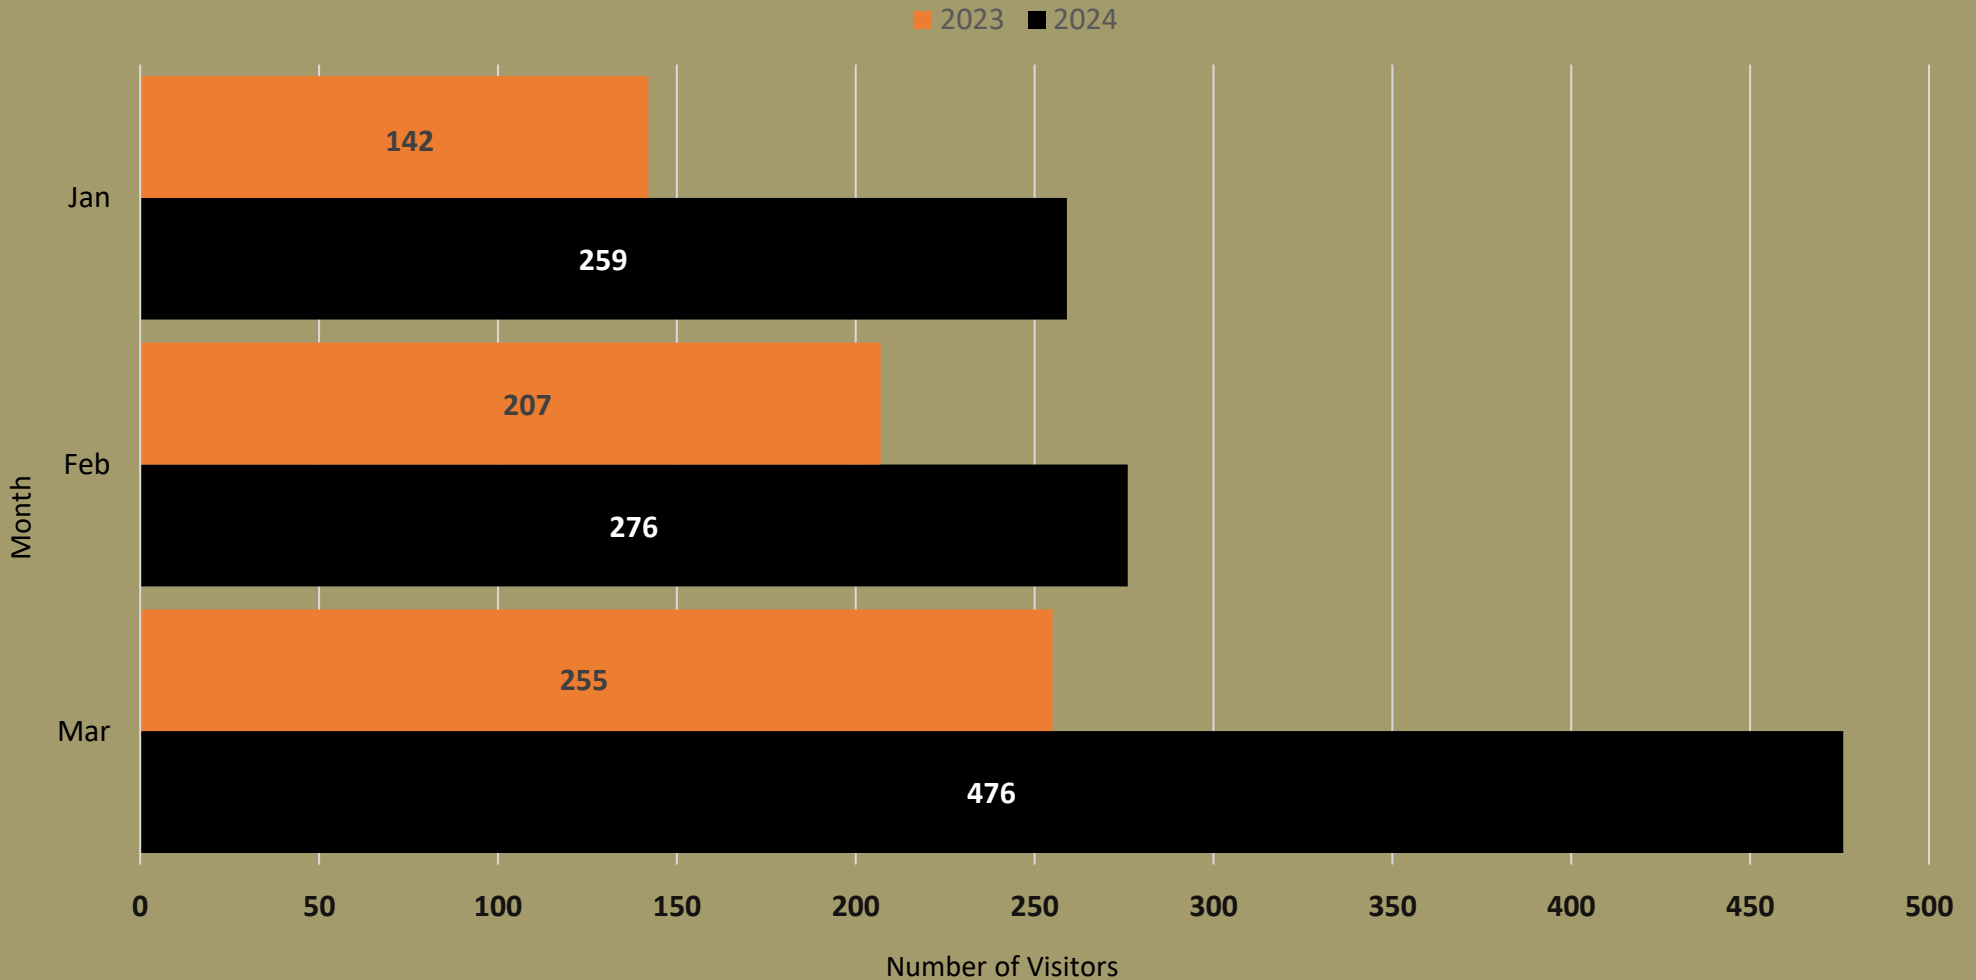

MARCH 2024

OUR MISSION

- A historic East London market town, Romford is a destination that offers the perks of the big city coupled with the joys of slower-paced suburban living. Originally part of Essex, Romford is now located in the London Borough of Havering. However, as is common in many areas of London, there are pockets of deprivation scattered throughout the Borough.
- As community advocates, we strive to support the often overlooked community of Romford. Our goal is to provide assistance to everyone without discrimination, and no referral form or specific eligibility criteria are required to access our food bank. Our doors are open to the entire community to ensure we can help as many people as possible.
- Our community food bank recognises that food insecurity is merely one component of the multitude of challenges that our guest households face. These individuals also grapple with housing, debt, schooling, and mental health concerns, among other things. By alleviating even a single one of these stressors, our community food bank is making a valuable contribution to the local community.
